

SOCIETY

The Post is pleased to receive all items of a social nature if addressed to "Society Editor," Houston Post, Telephone 431. Communications must be written upon one side of the paper only, and signed by the writer.

THE SEERING SOUL.

You lagards there on guard! look to your arms!
In at the conquered doors they crowd! I am possessed!
Embodiment all presence outlawed or suffering See myself in prison shaped like another man, And feel the dull unmitigated pain.

For me the keepers of convicts shoulder their carbines and keep watch.
It is I, I feel out in the morning, and barred at night.
Not a prisoner walks handcuffed to jail, but I am handcuffed to him and walk by his side.

I am low the jelly one there, and more the silent one with sweat on my twisting lips.

Not a youngster is taken for larceny, but I am in prison and tried and sentenced.

Not a shadow of a light at the last day, but I am in the last day.

My face is ashy, and my eyes are away from the people's eyes.

As they come to me and I am in the prison.

I am in the prison, and I am in the prison.

On Monday the opening of the home of the Shelters Arms, that long-looked-for and earnestly labored for, opened with great success. Nearly all the members of the organization, headed by the honored president, were there to enjoy the results of their many months of toil and the rooms were crowded during the reception.
The committee's work was well represented by many food, fuel and furnishings. The collection was generous and the work was well supplied with groceries, so that the last steps have been taken toward providing for the inmates.
It is the hope of the association to provide for the inmates in the future, and the work will be continued.

At a social gathering, given by the association, on Monday afternoon, the program was as follows:
Monday, March 15: Review of Points Embroidery Art Appreciation, what to look for in order to understand and enjoy pictures.

Monday, March 22: Classical Painters; early and present painters and their characteristics.

Monday, March 29: Romantic Movement in Art; the cause of the rise of this phase and its present position in art.

Monday, April 5: Impressionism; its rise, development and permanent influence.

Monday, April 12: The Impressionist Painters; the most prominent present influence in American art.

Monday, April 19: "Bohemian" sketches from art life from the artist's standpoint.
The subjects will be illustrated by pictures and demonstrated through practical workings before the class by Mrs. Cherry.

On Monday, the last before the Lenten season, Mrs. L. T. Noyes made her regular visit to her apartments in the Capitol little more delightful than the ordinary, by serving tea and providing music, to which Miss Hughes, Miss Reel and Miss Brinmade contributed.

During the afternoon a large number called, among them many young men. Although a mere "at home" day, the event was particularly pleasant.

The young girls, who, chaperoned by Mrs.
L. T. Noyes, were to serve luncheon for the benefit of the Shelters Arms yesterday, have indefinitely postponed the event.

The Ladies' society of the Hardy Street Presbyterian church will give a missionary tea Wednesday evening, March 10, at home of Mrs. Oscar Cecil, corner of Gano and Lee streets. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Mrs. Herbert E. Fuller entertained with a delightful little luncheon on Thursday, at her home in Oak Lawn.

The Galveston ladies who were so attractively entertained recently by Mrs. E. P.
Turner will reciprocate by giving an oyster roast at Woodlawn's lake on Thursday of this week. Forty invitations have been issued in Houston, these guests to go down in a splendid coach. The affair promises much novelty, and of course it is eagerly awaited.

The friends of Trinity Mission enjoyed the carnival tea which was held on Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. George Atkinson, 1215 Polk avenue.

An interesting programme was rendered, in which Miss Buckingham and Miss Mar-rian Walker and Little Miss Lelia Torrey sang. Mrs. Atkinson and Miss Warner recited and Miss Myra Ashe danced. Several tableaux were given with pleasing results.
Refreshments were served and dancing then enjoyed by the many young people present.

sweet purple flowers, and in the parlor a case of violet-colored blouses.
The luncheon was a most enjoyable entertainment throughout.

A box party was given Friday night to witness the Grand Opera company in "The Bohemian Girl," by Mr. and Mrs. W. B.
Bohannon, and Miss Gillian Brown of Anniston, Ala., and Miss Hester of Lanes-ville, Ky. The others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, Miss Root and Miss Cora Root, Mr. R. R. Latham, Mr.
O. C. Drew, Jr., Mr. Spencer Hutchins and Mr. Himes Kirkland.

The party occupied the lower left boxes.
It was a carter party throughout, the most wearing and the ladies carrying deep pink carnations, while the decorations of supper which followed and which was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith on Main street, were in start.

The last feature was a most enjoyable.
The dining room was entirely with its gay adornment. The chandeliers were great with deep red crepe paper, making great trails of glowing light. Three silver candelabra were brilliant with scarlet candles, the centerpiece, red carnations in a silver vase, was reflected in the mirror below with a dash of crystal and scarlet which glittered and danced in a riotous manner.

The buffet held a bowl of red lilies and salvia, and in every conceivable way the red was used. The course supper was carried out with an artistic color arrangement, each dish adding its quota to the scheme.
Present at the table besides those already mentioned were Mr. John McCalland and Mr. Hammond Brown.

On Tuesday evening a theater party was entertained by Mrs. Charles Miller at her home on Dallas avenue and Fannin street.
The party was made up of Miss Ella Smith, Miss Belle Dickson, Miss Tina Jonette Jones and of Mr. Austin Miller, Mr. Spencer Hutchins, Mr. O. C. Drew, Jr., Mr. Abbott Hickman and Mr. John McCalland. Also Mr. Henry W. Hixson of Tennessee and Mr. Milby Henderson were guests of the evening.

The large double parlors and hall, gallery and conservatory of Mrs. Miller's hospitable home were thrown together, and the smooth floor provided excellent for dancing, which was enjoyed for several hours after which were delicious refreshments, were served by the hostess at midnight, and each guest voted the affair most enjoyable.

Mrs. Emma Richardson Cherry will give a series of "Art Talks" at her studio, 1517 San Jacinto street, on Monday afternoons during Lent. The talks will begin at 2:30 o'clock and will continue for an hour and a half, the course to cost $5 and tickets for single lectures $1. Tickets may be obtained from the patronesses: Mrs. C. Lombard, Mrs. H. F. MacGregor, Mrs. R. R.
Richardson and Miss Cargill.

The programme for the series is as follows:
Monday, March 15: Review of Points
Embroidery Art Appreciation, what to look for in order to understand and enjoy pictures.

Monday, March 22: Classical Painters;
early and present painters and their characteristics.

Monday, March 29: Romantic Movement
in Art; the cause of the rise of this phase
and its present position in art.

Monday, April 5: Impressionism; its rise,
development and permanent influence.

Monday, April 12: The Impressionist Painters; the most prominent present influence
in American art.

Monday, April 19: "Bohemian" sketches
from art life from the artist's standpoint.
The subjects will be illustrated by pictures and demonstrated through practical
workings before the class by Mrs. Cherry.

On Monday, the last before the Lenten
season, Mrs. L. T. Noyes made her regular
visit to her apartments in the Capitol
little more delightful than the ordinary,
by serving tea and providing music, to
which Miss Hughes, Miss Reel and Miss Brinmade contributed.

During the afternoon a large number
called, among them many young men. Although a mere "at home" day, the event
was particularly pleasant.

The young girls, who, chaperoned by Mrs.
L. T. Noyes, were to serve luncheon for the benefit of the Shelters Arms yesterday, have indefinitely postponed the event.

The Ladies' society of the Hardy Street
Presbyterian church will give a missionary
tea Wednesday evening, March 10, at home of Mrs. Oscar Cecil, corner of Gano and Lee streets. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Mrs. Herbert E. Fuller entertained with a delightful little luncheon on Thursday,
at her home in Oak Lawn.

The Galveston ladies who were so attractively entertained recently by Mrs. E. P.
Turner will reciprocate by giving an oyster
roast at Woodlawn's lake on Thursday
of this week. Forty invitations have been issued in Houston, these guests to go down
in a splendid coach. The affair promises
much novelty, and of course it is eagerly awaited.

The friends of Trinity Mission enjoyed
the carnival tea which was held on Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. George Atkinson, 1215 Polk avenue.

An interesting programme was rendered,
in which Miss Buckingham and Miss Mar-
rian Walker and Little Miss Lelia Torrey
sang. Mrs. Atkinson and Miss Warner recited and Miss Myra Ashe danced. Several
tableaux were given with pleasing results.
Refreshments were served and dancing
then enjoyed by the many young people present.

The social given at the Baptist church Thursday evening of last week was well attended.

Conundrums and answers alike were distributed in the audience, and five minutes was given each who had a question to find the owner of his answer. These questions and answers were read aloud, provoking much merriment. A millinery contest by young men followed, and refreshments closed a very pleasant evening.
A large attendance proved the attraction which these affairs have for the people of the Baptist church.

It must be emphatically reiterated that communications intended for the society editor must be written upon one side of the paper only and signed by the writer.
The initials will not suffice for recognition.
It is no great effort to sign one's name in full, and indeed most people are very proud of doing so.

Communications must reach the office of The Post by Saturday morning, and it is very desirable to have them by Thursday or Friday.

The North Side Social club met last Thursday at the residence of Mrs. J. H.
Grauman. A pleasant evening was spent with a debate and music. The club meets next week with Mrs. Friday.

According to the notice given in last Sunday's Post, the calling guide is republished from January 17. It has been carefully revised, twenty-two new names being added and three names withdrawn.

It is hoped that the list, cut out and folded away in the card case, will prove its worth to those who have many calls to make this spring.

MONDAY—
Mrs. L. T. Noyes.

TUESDAY—
Mrs. A. T. Wanabrough,
Mrs. J. M. Cotton,
Mrs. Hattie S. Todd
(after 4 o'clock),
Mrs. A. F. Jones,
Mrs. Jane Cushman,
Mrs. E. L. Dennis,
Mrs. J. B. Beatty, Mrs. William Henry Crank (the first and second in the month).

WEDNESDAY—
Mrs. H. F. Mac-Gregor,
Mrs. J. M. Dorrance,
Mrs. W. H. McElroy,
Mrs. P. H. Fall,
Mrs. George W.
Norrell,
Mrs. R. S. Lovett,
Mrs. C. W. Helm,
Mrs. Howard Smith,
Mrs. W. B. Grose-
close,
Mrs. Alfred S. Dyer,
Mrs. C. W. Robinson,
Mrs. Harry B. Johnson,
Mrs. Bennie Allen,
Mrs. W. G. Van
Aloek,
Mrs. W. M. Baugh,
Mrs. E. R. Richard-
son,
Mrs. C. P. Bellow,
Mrs. E. P. Turner,
Mrs. and Mrs. Bertram Ruggles Herring and their mother, Mrs. Jennie W. Nell, are at home on Wednesday afternoons and evenings, at 206 Gray avenue.

Mrs. J. R. Stuart and Mrs. George W.
Haver are at home together on the first and third Wednesdays in each month, at the home of Mrs. Heyer, on Capitol avenue.
Mrs. C. A. Wagley, 2514 San Jacinto.

THURSDAY—
Mrs. William M.
Mitchell,
Mrs. J. C. Hutche-
son,
Mrs. L. A. Randolph,
Mrs. C. Lombardi,
Mrs. S. C. Red,
Mrs. W. D. Cleveland,
Mrs. Richard Nor-
sworthy,
Mrs. J. W. Scott (the first and second in every month).

FRIDAY—
Mrs. D. F. Stuart,
Mrs. E. N. Gray,
Mrs. D. M. Ewing,
Mrs. B. B. Davis,
Mrs. Vernon Lemon,
Mrs. John A. Garey,
Mrs. M. Loosan,
Mrs. W. E. Fitz-
ald,
Mrs. Chas. Passey,
Misses Wiggins,
Miss Ella Wiggins,
Mrs. Rufus Allen,
Mrs. S. I. Baker,
Mrs. Rufus Cagle,
Mrs. M. J. Lester,
Mrs. J. E. Briscoe,
Mrs. G. A. Mistrot,
Mrs. L. A. Mott,
Mrs. Clara Hauptman, Mrs. S. R. Fiquet and Miss Ella Cane celebrate with Mrs. E. M. May, 1703 Prairie avenue.

SATURDAY—
Mrs. George W. Steff, Glen Katherine (after 3 o'clock).

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gribble entertained a merry house party at Bay Ridge park from Saturday to Monday last. The party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gribble, Miss Ella Wiggins, Misses Ella and Addie Gribble, Miss Grace Hickson and Messrs.
Charles Wiggins, Frank Weck, Charles Bridle, Arthur Vaughn and Dick McChaux.

Chit Chat.
"A large and select audience" seems to have been a pet phrase with reporters for all time. Faulkner's Journal, a Dublin publication, dated April 13, 1742, says of the rehearsal of Handel's Messiah in that city, conducted by the composer himself, that it took place in the presence of "a most grand, polite and crowded audience."

The Journal furthermore states that "Many ladies and gentlemen who are well wishers to this noble and grand charity for which Mr. Handel's new and grand oratorio was composed, request it as a favor that ladies who honor this performance with their presence would be pleased to come without hoops, as it would greatly increase the charity by making room for more company."

Gentlemen were also requested to come without swords.

If nowadays the gentlemen who attend the theater would take their swords and ruthlessly slay a few dozen feathers, almost any man could be a success.

The Ladies' Reading club, on Tuesday last, enjoyed two papers—one on "Arctic Explorations" and the other on "Aerial Navigation." Current events were given with the customary profit and pleasure.

The club has decided to study, for the next session, the principal cities of the world, and no doubt this will prove most enjoyable, offering, as it does, a field for the study of history, architecture, politics and the character of the nations themselves.

The Dickens club met last week with Mrs. B. R. Bassette on San Jacinto street.
The morning opened with quotations from Pickwick, which proved very entertaining, and the practice will be continued. Mrs.
McConnell read the Trial of Bardell vs.
Pickwick, and this was, of course, highly amusing. The study of Pickwick will be continued another week at least.

The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Felton, corner Crawford street and Bell avenue.

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Reading club, on Wednesday, the president, Mrs. George McDowell, read one of Ruth McEnery Stuart's charming stories, "Character." Mrs. J. T. Brady also read a very pretty letter from Mrs. Stuart, expressing her thanks for the hospitality which she enjoyed in Houston.

Some unfinished business was attempted to, and the club adjourned, with no attempt at the study of Norway.

The Daughters of the Republic met in regular monthly session on Thursday. Pictures of Stephen F. Austin and of General Sam Houston have been sent to the schools of Texas, from the Panhandle to the coast, and the order feels gratified with the results of its labor in this undertaking.

An open meeting took the place of the regular sketch club on Friday afternoon.
Each member was privileged to invite one guest, and there was no pose and no sketching done, but instead the work of the members decorated the walls of Mrs. Cherry's studio and the guests found pleasure in studying the unsigned sketches.

According to the announcement that a modern painter would be discussed, the attention was turned toward William M.
Chase. Reproductions of his work were shown, a sketch of his life was given by Miss Hunter and a description of the art school at Shiloh, which was read by Miss Van Horn. Mrs. Cherry, who was a pupil of Chase, gave some interesting reminiscences of the man and teacher.

Owing to the inclemency of the afternoon some were prevented from attending.
The president being unable to preside, the secretary asked Miss Cargill to take the chair.

MISS BELMONT GRAHAM OF AUSTIN, TEXAS.

Who has been making a visit to her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Yoakum. Mr. Yoakum is a railroad official, who has recently come to St. Louis to reside, and has purchased a handsome home on West Pine boulevard.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

ettes and steele ornaments, there might be more charily felt among the spectators.

A new expression has dawned upon the human countenance. It is strained, almost painful in its intensity, full of the over-lasting persistence of this fine de siècle period.

It is the look of the bicyclist as he spins along in the crisp breeze down the Harrisburg road. He is bent to the pedals, with his head thrust forward and his every feature fixed in a set, grim expression that is terrible to behold. None of your gay, light jousting that ought to go in with sport that makes the blood run fast. Little of ease, but an interest that seems almost and relaxation.

The bicycle comes near being the greatest joy of the century's declining years, but must it bring a new expression into the face of humanity?

We have heard much of the expression which comes into the faces of those who lead a public social life. Some imaginative individual has discovered that one administration brings an inane, perpetually pleasant expression into the faces of Washington ladies, who before were vivacious, fresh and cordial. It is said that Mrs.
Cleveland's face has changed utterly and that its naturalness and interest have gone together with its youth.

The question has been solved. The reason women do not take off their hats at the matinee is because all the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't put them on again—without a mirror.

Putting on a hat is a work of art. Men's hats fit and they clap them on their heads with utter indifference. But not these lovely creations in velvet and lace and tips.
After the curtain drops, she who has blessed her hair by removing her hat, says to her friend:

"Is it on straight?"
"Um—hum," says her friend, without a glance toward the hat in question, so busy is she seeing who is who.

But spring comes apace and with it sailors, and they are several degrees better all "round."

The new patterns for dress fabrics go together with the wheeling period and all the other rushing, whirling, flashing occupations of this day and age.

To look at a shirt waist or a petticoat or silk, with the great whirling, whirling figures twisted in and out and on top of each other makes one verily dizzy. It is like the wheel within wheel advertisements which flooded the land a few years ago and which read: "Move in a circular direction and the wheels will soon appear to revolve."

Fashion has wheels in her head this spring, sure enough.

At the meeting of the Shakespeare club on Thursday, answers to questions on scenes 2, 3 and 4 of act 3 were given and fully discussed. This proved to be an enjoyable and profitable afternoon. The questions from this play, "Macbeth," are especially apt, and, therefore, familiar, and come very "trippingly." It would seem that this play has been under study for some time, but the plan pursued is necessarily a slow one. The club, however, aims at thoroughness and does not object to taking it slowly.

The Ladies' Reading club, on Tuesday
last, enjoyed two papers—one on "Arctic Explorations" and the other on "Aerial
Navigation." Current events were given

with the customary profit and pleasure.
The club has decided to study, for the next session, the principal cities of the world, and no doubt this will prove most
enjoyable, offering, as it does, a field for
the study of history, architecture, politics
and the character of the nations themselves.

The Dickens club met last week with Mrs. B. R. Bassette on San Jacinto street.
The morning opened with quotations from Pickwick, which proved very entertaining,
and the practice will be continued. Mrs.
McConnell read the Trial of Bardell vs.
Pickwick, and this was, of course, highly
amusing. The study of Pickwick will be continued another week at least.

The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Felton, corner Crawford
street and Bell avenue.

bumbers have been liberal also, and the necessary material will soon be on the ground.

The ladies of the building committee, at their meeting, thanked Mr. N. S. Meltrone of the Houston East and West Texas, and Mr. H. A. Jones of the Houston and Texas Central railroad for courtesies extended.

It is hoped that every member will be present at the meeting on Tuesday.

The Dordick Literary-Musical club met last night after a delay of one week, with a thoroughly enjoyable Bach evening.

These musicals increase in interest and they are a deeply appreciated treat to those who have long felt the need of just such a musical organization.

Personal.
Mrs. Henrietta G. Bill of Redlands, Cal., accompanied by her niece, Misses Bertha and Nettie Hudson, is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. Weiner. While in the city Mrs.
Bill will be at home on Tuesdays at her sister's, Mrs. Louis Lechenger, 506 Caroline street.

Miss Annie Rutherford and Miss Louise Shelly went on Monday to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Rutherford for a visit.

Miss Margaret Waties, who has been spending some time in South Carolina, has joined her parents in New Orleans.

Miss Mabel R. Gulton, who has been spending the winter in New Orleans, has remained over for Mardi Gras.

Mr. F. K. Dorrance was in New Orleans for the carnival.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Blake were among Houstonians in New Orleans last week.

Miss Bessie Pearl Melville, formerly of this city, but now residing in San Antonio, is visiting Miss Mary Hutchinson of 1835 Lamar avenue.

Mrs. F. C. Ewing of Sewanee, Tenn., came on Thursday to the home of her son, Mr. Freely K. Ewing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barry and Miss Ellen Marshall have returned from Mardi Gras.

Mrs. Morgan Baker has returned to El Paso. Mrs. Baker will remain for a short visit to her mother, Mrs. A. J. Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Lumm and son are at home at their residence, 308 Polk avenue.

Miss Atkinson was delightfully entertained last week by Mrs. John T. Lockman.
Mrs. C. W. Bellow and Mrs. L. C. Davis have moved from Millam street to 903 Travis, corner of Walker, where they are at home on Wednesdays.

Miss Flora Spencer, daughter of Major F. M. Spencer of Galveston, is the guest of Mrs. Henry Brasher.

Mr. Henry W. Bivins of Murfreesboro, Texas, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller.

Miss Houston, who has been the guest of Mrs. Howard Smith, leaves tomorrow for Austin.

The friends of Mrs. James Burroughs will regret to hear that she is quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Palmer and Mrs. T.
J. Ray are domiciled at 1019 Rusk avenue.

Mrs. Rector of Austin and Mrs. Petricola of Orange are visiting their father, Judge James R. Masterson.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Michaux have returned from their honeymoon in California and are now at home to their Houston friends.

Mr. Frank W. Michaux will be at home Thursday with his sister, Mrs. Jefferson Gibbs, corner Hamilton and Lamar streets.

Mr. J. Huey left last week for New Orleans to witness Mardi Gras and to spend a month with her aunt, Mrs. Jesse K. Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haynes have returned from their wedding trip and are at home with Mrs. Burton on Third street.

Miss Josie Burton and Mrs. Haynes accompanied them home from New Orleans, where they had a delightful time, and the ball and entering into all the pleasures.

All Rich Men in the Chamber.
McKinley's Official Household.
Many Millionaires.
Washington Letter to the Chicago Tribune.

It is a subject of comment that the members of his official household.
Major McKinley has shown a considerable fault for wealthy men. He has but it has never before happened there was not a poor man in the All the members of the McKinley with possibly two exceptions, are The exceptions are Lyman and James Wilson of Iowa. It is stood that Mr. Gage has a considerable fortune, but the extent of his not definitely known. Mr. Wilson is reputed to be worth about a quarter of million dollars. His property consists of Iowa real estate. He owns several farms which secure him a good income. John Sherman, who is a United States senator, has a salary of $12,000 a year.
The state department was worth $3,000,000, and probably much more.
Sherman has managed to save a great deal of money out of a salary of $12,000 a year, which has been his only source of income since he entered public life many years ago. His thrift demonstrates the fact to be a fraud.

General Alger is well off in the goods. His fortune is estimated at million dollars, and he is a very successful, though not foolishly, man.
Mr. Gary is a wealthy manufacturer has long been a society leader in land.

Mr. Long of Massachusetts has a large bank account and is very successful in the society.
John J. McCook of New York is a man, but it is not known how successful he has at his command. He says he will cheerfully do his part making the administration a brilliant success.

Judge McKenna, like Senator has saved a little money for a time and he will let some of it go when he goes to Washington.

The society people here are deluged like to see men in the cabinet maintain expensive establishments gigantic entertainments, while the